BYE – LAWS

Explanatory notes regarding the drafting of the bye-laws of the Institute of Catering Technology and Applied Nutrition (Madras) Society.

1. The scope of the bye-laws. The bye-laws of the Society are intended for the regulation of the conduct of the Society's affairs by the members and employees of the Society. The bye-laws are, therefore, an essentially internal affair. In the bye-laws of many institutions matters such as the terms and conditions of service of the staff, the particulars of courses of instructions, the scale of fees, and other matters relating to academic administration are included. This does not seem to be appropriate. In any case in so far as our Institute is concerned, the details of terms, courses, fees etc., have already been given in the prospectus. There is therefore no need to repeat these matters in the bye-laws. The terms and conditions of service of the staff (pay and allowances, leave terms, medical benefits, etc.) will be laid down in a separate brochure to be entitled "Staff regulations". Similarly, regulations relating to admission into the hostels, the hostel charges, the conduct of students in the hostels, etc. can be laid down in a brochure called "Hostel Regulations", which can be issued. Contributory Provident Fund/or/Pension Fund will have to be instituted by the Society, regulations relating to this Provident Fund will also have to be separately issued. In the light of the foregoing, the bye-laws need cover only the procedure to be followed and the powers to be exercised by the various authorities in the Society in regard to the framing and submission of budget estimates, the incurring of expenditure, the creation of posts and the making of appointments, the purchase of stores, the execution of contracts, - the write off of losses, etc.

2. General approach.- An effort has been made in drafting these bye-laws to resist the temptation of trying to foresee every possible contingency and to legislate for every little detail. The bye-laws of some of the institutions which have been consulted suffer from this tendency. For instance, the bye-laws of one institution lay down not only that candidates for appointment shall be selected by a Selection Committee but also that the candidates should pay certain specified rates of application fees, that the Selection Committee should hold interviews, that the selected candidates shall be arranged in the order of merit, etc. This kind of detail should find no place in the bye-laws of a Society which should provide only a general framework of principles and procedures. An attempt has also been made to strike a reasonable balance between excessive rigidity and extreme flexibility. Another point which has been borne in mind is the need to delegate the powers of the Board to subordinate authorities in as large a measure as possible. A common defect in the bye-laws of institutions set up as registered societies under the Government's sponsorship is that they tend to be weighted down by governmental procedures and terminology, particularly in regard to budgetary and appointment procedures. An attempt has been made to get free of this tendency. For instance, terms such as appropriation and reappropriation have been avoided; the double need to make the budgetary exercise a real discipline and to provide at the same time for adjustments within certain limits has been met by providing for the grouping of items (see bye-law I(3)). Expressions such as 'primary units' and 'Secondary units' which play a useful role in governmental budgeting do not seem to have any significance in the budgeting of an institution like ours; the distinction between "pay of officers" and "pay of establishment" which most societies copy from the government seems wholly unnecessary. (Incidentally, certain expressions such as 'capital expenditure', 'revenue expenditure', etc.,

3. Relationship with the Government.- The memorandum and the rules of any government-sponsored registered society impose certain restrictions on the society vis-a-vis the government and prescribe consultation with the government in regard to certain matters such as the acquisition and disposal of immovable property, the observance of certain conditions in regard to the utilisation of grants received from the Government etc. It does not seem necessary to refer to such restrictions in the bye-laws of which the society frames for the regulation of its own affairs. For instance in the bye-laws relating to appointments it seems neither necessary nor appropriate to lay down restrictions on the powers of the Board; the Board, being the governing body of the Society, has full powers in regard to the affairs of the Society, and there can be no meaning in its imposing restrictions on itself. If the Government were to require that appointments to posts carrying a pay exceeding a specific limit should be made by the Society with the concurrence of the Government, this is a matter pertaining to the relationship between the Society and the Government and is extraneous to the bye-laws. Consistently with this view, references to the government's approval, consultation with the Government, etc., have generally been left out of the draft bye-laws. (Occasional references to the Government may, however, be found where a procedure would be unintelligible or incomplete without such a reference; for instance, as the budget estimates have to be prepared in form prescribed by the Government, and as they have to be submitted to the Government by a prescribed date for obtaining funds, the budgetary procedure will be incomplete and unintelligible without a reference to the Government.) The powers delegated and the procedural instructions given in the bye-laws will therefore have to be read with the obligations cast upon the society vis-a-vis the Government in its Memorandum and Rules as well as in any other communications, directives, etc., issued by the Government to the Society. A note to this effect has been given at the head of the bye-laws.

4. The system of payments.- In the bye-laws relating to financial procedure the Secretary has been made solely responsible for making payments in accordance with the expenditure sanctions accorded by the appropriate authority and for the maintenance of accounts. [The system of having a Treasurer distinct from the Secretary seems to be wholly undesirable.] So long as an expenditure sanction has been accorded by an appropriate authority, there should be no room for procedural difficulties or delays in the incurring of expenditure. Executive responsibility necessarily involves responsibility for payment as well, and it would be quite unsound to divorce the two responsibilities from each other. As regards the proper maintenance of accounts and documents, the observance of the prescribed procedures, the adherence to the discipline of the budgetary limits etc., it is not necessary to keep a watch on these by interposing checks in the course of executive action; adequate financial control can be exercised by the Board through its periodical scrutiny of the accounts and the auditor's reports thereon. In very large commercial organisations a system of internal check is laid down, but it does not seem to be necessary to introduce such complications in a training institution of this kind. At the same time, in order to ensure that large cheques are not issued without proper authority and to prevent the possibility of defalcations, forgeries etc., provision has been made for a counter-signature of the Secretary's signature on cheques exceeding a certain figure by a member of the Executive Committee. (This figure is the same as the limit on the Secretary's expenditure powers.) It is necessary to ensure that this provision is not misunderstood to be intended as a system of financial control, and it has therefore been specified that the member who counter-signs the cheque will satisfy himself in regard to only two matters, viz. that there is an expenditure sanction by a competent authority and that a pay order has been duly accorded by the Secretary. If, however, even this limited check is felt to be inconsistent with what has been said above, it could be omitted.

Contd..3..

5. Forms of accounts to be maintained.— The bye-laws of certain institutions prescribes in detail the books of accounts to be maintained, the forms to be adopted for the cash book, the ledger, etc. This seems unnecessary. The normal commercial principles of double-entry book-keeping are fairly well understood and any accountant with commercial qualifications should be able to maintain the usual books without an attempt by the Board to lay down the details of such books. The draft bye-laws contain therefore merely a provision that the accounts shall be maintained in accordance with the normal commercial principles and that the usual documents shall be kept in accordance with common commercial practice.

6. Contracts.— In the bye-laws relating to contracts, a provision is often found to the effect that drafts of contracts involving a financial consideration exceeding a certain figure should be submitted to the Solicitor to the Government of India. Such a provision has not been included in these draft bye-laws, as it seems unnecessary that a reference should be made to the Government by the Society before executing a contract. What is required is that sound legal advice should be obtained. A provision has therefore been made for consulting a Solicitor (not the Solicitor to the Government) where the financial consideration involved exceeds a specified figure; and where the consideration involved is less than the specified figure, it has been left to the discretion of the authority approving the contract to decide whether legal advice should be taken.

Definitions. In these bye-laws, except where the context indicates otherwise,

(i) the expressions 'Society', 'Board', 'Executive Committee', 'Secretary', 'Institute', 'State Government' and 'Central Government' shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Memorandum and/or the Rules of the Institute of Catering Technology and Applied Nutrition (Madras) Society; and

(ii) 'financial year' shall mean the financial year followed by the State and Central Governments.

-:o:-

I. Bye-laws relating to financial, budgetary and accounts matters.

Budget procedure. (1) The budget estimates of the Society for each financial year shall be prepared by the Secretary in the forms prescribed by the State Government in terms of rule 25 of the Rules of the Society* and shall be submitted by the Secretary with such explanatory notes and recommendations as may be necessary for consideration at a meeting of the Executive Committee to be held not later than the 3ist of July of the proceeding financial year. The Executive Committee shall consider the budget estimates and may approve them or offer such comments or suggest such changes as it may consider necessary and appropriate.

(2) The budget estimates of each financial year as approved by the Executive Committee, shall be placed Before a meeting of the Board to be held before the 15th of August of the proceeding financial year. The Board shall consider the budget estimates and may approve them or offer such comments or suggest such changes as it may consider necessary and appropriate.

estimates for the ensuing financial year. These revised estimates shall be submitted to the Executive Committee, the Board and the State and Central Governments successively as indicated in bye-laws I(1), (2), (3) and (4) along with the budget estimates of the ensuing financial year.

(6) While submitting the budget estimates to the Executive Committee and the Board the Secretary shall group the individual items in the estimates into a number of small groups. A specimen grouping is given in Annexure II to these bye-laws. The approval by the Board of the budget estimates shall constitute an approval of such groupings also. After the estimates are approved by the Board, the Executive Committee shall have full powers to effect adjustments among the items within a group so long as the total expenditure estimate for the group is not exceeded. The Board shall have full powers to effect adjustments between one group and another.

Powers of Expenditure. (7) Subject to the availability of funds in the approved budget estimates, and subject further to such bye-laws regulations or instructions as have been or may be laid down by the Board to govern the procedure to be followed and the powers to be exercised by various authorities in regard to specific types or classes of cases such as the creation of posts, appointments, purchases of stores, etc. expenditure out of the funds of the Society Society may be sanctioned by the following authorities to the extent indicated:-

Nature of expenditure.	Sanctioning Authority.	Extent of powers.
1. Capital Expenditure	The Board.	Full powers.
2. Revenue Expenditure.
(a) Repetitive	Secretary	Not exceeding Rs.50/- (rupees fifty) per month.
	Executive Committee.	Not exceeding Rs.300/- (rupees three hundred) per month.
	The Board.	Full powers.
(b) Non-repetitive.	Secretary.	Rs.500/- (Rupees five hundred) in each case.
	Executive Committee.	Rs.3,000/- (rupees three thousand in each case).
	The Board.	Full Powers.

Explanation.- The expression "repetitive" and "non-repetitive" imply a distinction between sanctions which involve repeated payments of a fixed figure at definite intervals and sanctions which involve expenditure on one single item or a number of closely related items and which cease to be effective as soon as this expenditure has been incurred. For instance, if furniture is hired or if a shed is taken on rent, etc., the sanction once accorded is a standing for repeated payments of a stated amount every month; if on the other hand sanction is accorded to the purchase of stores, stationery, etc., each sanction can cover only a single item or a number of closely related items and the sanction will expire as soon as the purchase has been completed.

AMENDMENT TO CLAUSE V (1) OF BYE-LAWS OF THE SOCIETY.

EXTRACT of the Minutes of the meeting of the Board of Governors of the Institute of Hotel Management Catering Technology and Applied Nutrition (Madras) Society, Madras-113 held on 31st Jan '86 at 2.30 p.m. at the Institute premises.

ITEM- III

ENHANCEMENT OF LIMIT FOR WRITE OFF OF OBSOLETE STORES BY PRINCIPAL & SECRETARY - REC.

The Board was informed that the delegation of powers for Secretary (Principal) to order to write off of obsolete stores and unserviceable articles is now limited to Rs.100/- for each item in respect of assets of non-capital nature viz. glassware, cutlery, crockery/linen/light equipment-operational etc. This limit was fixed 22 years ago in 1963 when the Institute was established and as such there is very heavy escalation of cost and rise in prices of articles over two decades. Basing on this factual consideration, the Board unanimously decided to enhance the delegation of powers of the Principal as Secretary of the Society to order write off of obsolete and unserviceable items (Non Capital nature) value of which does not exceed Rs.1,000/- per item with immediate effect,

Necessary amendment to clause No.V(1) of Bye-laws of the Society may be incorporated.

An enclosure-I to the Annexure of the I.C.T.A.N. (Madras), Society.

(Copy of letter from the State Government.)

-:o:-

Subject: Submission of budget estimates and statments of accounts and the sanctioning of grants.

-:o:-

I am directed to invite a reference to paragraph 3(xv) and (xvi) of the Memorandum of Association of the Society which rule 13 is the Rules of the Society and to say that the Central Government hereby lays down the following procedure for the submission of budget estimates by the Society, for the sanctioning of grants by the Government, or for the maintenance and submission of accounts by the Society.

(1) Budget Estimates:-

(a) By first August each year the Society will submit its revised estimates for the current financial year as well as the budget estimates for the ensuing financial year to the Government in the forms laid down in Annexure-I to this letter. Along with the budget estimates a statement of grant-recommendations will also be submitted in the prescribed form.
All these documents will be submitted to the Government for its approval by the Board of Governors of the Society.

(b) The budget estimates of the Society, for the purpose of calculating the Government grant, should not reflect the recurring expenditure, if any, on the cafeteria, if and if proposed to be run by the Society; the Cafeteria should be self-sustaining to the extent possible. Any proposal to subsidise the cafeteria expenditure should be concretely submitted in the form of a scheme.

(c) The various provisions indicated in Sections I and II (1) of the estimates (capital and recurring expenditure) should be explained and justified in detail and in quantitative terms in Appendix-II to the estimates ("Working-sheet").
For instance, no provision for buildings should be justified with reference to the actual building programme;
the provision for equipment should be explained with reference to the items proposed to be purchased; details of scholarships, fellowships, prizes and medals should be furnished; the basis of the provisions for the maintenance and repairs of various items should be indicated; etc., etc.
In other words, an attempt should be made to give the actual explanations leading up to the provisions shown in Section I and II. More precise and quantitative explanations are not feasible, and rough and ready estimates are made in the light of past experience or any other guiding factor, suitable remarks should be offered regarding the manner of activation. The revised estimates for the current financial year will take into account the actual expenditure incurred up to the time of preparation of estimates.

(d) A report on the working of the Institute up-to-date should also be submitted in duplicate along with the budget estimates.

(e) After the revised estimates for the current year and the budget estimates for the ensuing year are received by the end of August as aforesaid, they will be scrutinised by the Government, and the Government's comments, if any, will be sent to the Society as early as possible.

(2) Sanctions to grants.

The grants as found admissible will be released as follows:-

(i) 30% (thirty percent) of the admissible grant for the recurring expenditure of a given financial year will be made available to the Society by the first week of April of that year;

(ii) a further 30% (thirty percent) will be made available in the first week of July; and

(iii) the balance, after the adjustment of the surplus grant for recurring expenditure, if any, carried forward from the previous year, as well as after such other adjustments as are found necessary, will be made available to the Society after the receipt of the revised estimates for the year in question, and as far as possible by the first week of October of that year;

(iv) The admissible grant for capital expenditure will also be made available in three instalments along with the instalments of the grant for the recurring expenditure as indicated above. However, the percentages mentioned above will not apply to the grants for capital expenditure. Such proportions of the grants for capital expenditure as are required by the Society and are considered necessary in the light of the progress and programme of works, purchases, etc., will be made available to the Society on each occasion.

(b) For the purpose of the release of the grants in the manner aforesaid the Society will send requisitions for the appropriate instalments of the grant for capital and recurring expenditure respectively (i) by the first week of March; (ii) by the first week of June; and (iii) along with the revised estimates.

(c) Through the Government may issue consolidated cheques to the Society, the grants for capital and recurring expenditure will be calculated and accounted for separately.

3. Maintenance of accounts, record of assets etc.

(a) The Society will maintain detailed accounts of expenditure and receipts in the usual commercial manner on the basis of double entry book-keeping. At the end of the financial year the Society will get an income and expenditure account of the Institute as well as separate trading and profit and loss accounts in respect of the cafeteria, if any, compiled and audited by a reputable firm of Chartered Accountants. The accounts of expenditure and receipts in respect of Hostels and staffquarters, if any, should also be maintained separately pro forma, though these receipts and expenditures will also be reflected in the main accounts of the Society. No detailed forms are being prescribed for the accounts to be maintained by the Society. The Society should maintain the accounts in consultation with their auditors in the form and manner in common use in commercial practice. The audited statement of accounts for the previous financial year should be submitted to the Government by the Society along with its revised estimates for the current financial year and the budget estimates for the ensuing financial year, i.e., by 31st August, positively.

(b) The Society should also maintain a register of permanent and semi-permanent assets required wholly or mainly out of Government grants in the form given in Annexure-II to this letter. A copy of the register of assets should be furnished to the Government along with the audited statement of accounts annually.

(c) The assets acquired wholly or substantially out of Government grants should not without the prior sanction of the Government be encumbered, disposed of, or utilised for purposes other than those for which the grants are sanctioned.

(d) The books and accounts of the Society and its subsidiary bodies, if any, should be open to scrutiny by the Indian Audit and Accounts Department, should that Department consider such scrutiny necessary.

The procedure laid down in the foregoing paragraphs as well as the forms appended to this letter should be adhered to strictly. The instructions laid down in this letter are without prejudice to my obligation cast upon the Society by the provisions of its Memorandum and Rules. The receipt of this letter may kindly be acknowledged and a written acceptance of the procedure and conditions indicated herein furnished as early as possible.
